

Oban, Lorn and the Isles Local Area Community Planning Group Partnership Agreement (Draft-August 2010)

1. Background

- 1.1. Community Planning is now a legal requirement because of the Local Government in Scotland Act 2003. This places responsibility on the key public sector agencies in Argyll and Bute to develop and implement the community planning process. Community Planning is about everyone, communities, the Council and its partners – working together to make their area a better place to live and improve local services.
- 1.2. This agreement is between the agencies, organisations and communities represented at a local level through the Local Area Community Planning Group and forms part of the Governance and Accountability Framework for the Argyll and Bute Community Planning Partnership. Through this agreement partners are committing to work together to deliver the Local Community Plan.
- 1.3. This agreement is not a legal document but sets out a set of principles and working arrangements to which members of the Local Area Community Planning Groups are committed.

2. Community Planning in Argyll and Bute

- 2.1. The Strategic Community Plan sets out a vision for the area that has been developed and agreed by a number of partners, including Argyll and Bute Council, Strathclyde Police, NHS Highland and Strathclyde Fire and Rescue. The Strategic Community Planning Partnership identifies four inter-related themes which are:
 - Economy
 - Environment
 - Social Affairs
 - Community Engagement
- 2.2. Complementing the strategic approach to community planning local structures have been developed to ensure that local needs are addressed and communities can have a voice within the community planning structure. There are four Local Area Community Planning Groups, one for each of the Council's administrative areas.
- 2.3. Local community planning enables individuals, organisations and communities to work together to influence the ways in which services are planned and strategic decisions are made.

3. Local Community Plan

- 3.1. The drafting of the Oban, Lorn and the Isles Local Community Plan began in November 2009. Various networks were set up for ensuring the creation of this Plan, including engagement with Argyll and Bute Council Services, Strathclyde Police, NHS Highland, Strathclyde Fire and Rescue, Community Councils and other statutory and voluntary services operating in this area. Additionally, the Plan has been informed by discussion and consultations with all statutory and voluntary service providers, agencies, organisations and groups. Ultimately the main source of local views has been the engagement of local people in the "Forward Together" events, which were rolled out right across the area and have identified local concerns, issues and aspirations.

- 3.2. The Plan, therefore, summarises the views of local people and service providers and aims to set a framework for future needs led provision and the future development and dovetailing of services. Based on the outcomes of the consultation process the Plan will highlight priorities and actions under key outcomes. These are:

4. Area Information

4.1. Oban, Lorn and the Isles

Lying to the north west of Argyll and Bute, Oban, Lorn and the Isles has a total population of 19,960. 9,782 (49%) are male; 10,178 (51%) are female (GROS' 2008 SAPEs). Proportions of the male population in the older age cohorts (aged 50 and over) are lower than Argyll and Bute averages, although still slightly higher than averages for Scotland. In common with the rest of Argyll and Bute, there is a noticeable 'dent' in the young adult age cohorts, which are underrepresented in the area when compared to Scotland more generally. The main service centre in the area is Oban (population 8,120 (GROS 2008-based Settlement Estimates)). *The GROS 2008-based Small Area Population Estimates and 2008-based Settlement Estimates are: © Crown copyright.  - 9.4. Clearly defined targets and timescales will be agreed to ensure that the progress of the plan can be monitored and reviewed.

10. Roles and Responsibilities of partner organisations, agencies and community representatives

10.1. If you are involved in Community Planning, at any level, you must demonstrate representation and ensure accountability. Clear lines of accountability allow representatives to speak with real authority. This does not mean that all decisions are subject to a consensus, at times a representative will have to present diverse, sometimes conflicting, views. Representatives should be prepared and able to explain decisions and actions.

10.2. Partners in a representation role should:-

- put into place reporting mechanisms that support the flow of information without creating unnecessary burdens;
- make arrangements that enable all partners to participate as fully as possible;
- ensure there is clarity about when one partner has a clear mandate to represent and when they do not.
- be clear about who they are representing

11. Monitoring and Evaluation

- 11.1. The Oban, Lorn and the Isles Local Action Plan is a result of local people and community planning partners working together. Therefore, the monitoring and evaluation of the plan will involve both officers and the community.
- 11.2. Already communities across Oban, Lorn and the Isles have shown a willingness to take on this role and see the benefits in continuing the joint working arrangements along with Local Officers, Elected Members and other voluntary and statutory organisations operating in the Oban, Lorn and the Isles area.
- 11.3. It is also recognised that local elected members will play a central role in assessing progress made. This will provide an ongoing learning process for all those involved.
- 11.4. The Plan will reflect the aims of the Argyll and Bute Community Planning Partnership but will significantly identify issues raised at a local level. This should inform decisions on future actions, but also result in highlighting the growth in confidence, skills and capacity of individuals, organisations and the wider community.
- 11.5. Simple reporting arrangements will be adopted to enable agencies and services to make links with their own mechanisms.

12. Review Cycle

- 12.1. This Agreement will be reviewed annually
