SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT NO. 3

(A) BACKGROUND

This application was presented to the Planning, Protective Services and Licensing Committee meeting on 22nd February 2012, at which time the item was continued.

The Crofters' Commission has since provided a consultation response dated 23rd February 2012 and made a further representation dated 7th March 2012. In these responses they have stated their general support for the croft proposal due to the comprehensive Croft Development Plan (CDP). They have also indicated their satisfaction that the sub-division of the croft will not lead to the inappropriate break up of croft assets or prejudice the interests of the wider crofting community. They will not, however, comment on the viability of the CDP or express any view as to the point at which residential occupation of the land is warranted in terms of the management of the land.

There is general support for the development of a croft house on a bareland croft through Structure Plan Policy STRAT AC1. In order to justify a new dwelling under this exceptional 'need' scenario, the applicant must demonstrate that the proposed house is required as part of the croft development in order to be able to manage the land in a manner consistent with the aims set out in the Croft Development Plan . In this instance, the applicant has provided a comprehensive CDP which has been accepted by the Crofters' Commission. With this in mind the CDP can amount to a suitable locational justification for development and satisfies Structure Plan policy STRAT AC1. Therefore the original ground for refusal number 2 can be deleted as a justification for the development has been accepted under policy STRAT AC1.

(B) RECOMMENDATION:

Having due regard to the Development Plan and all other material considerations, it is recommended that:

- i) the Area Capacity Evaluation (ACE) as appended to the main Report of Handling be adopted as a material consideration in the determination of this application and any future application within the defined area of common landscape character;
 - ii) the application be refused for the reasons given below in this supplementary report; and,
 - iii) the applicant be encouraged to pursue one of the alternative sites identified in the ACE to secure a house for the croft once the bareland croft is being worked as per the Croft Development Plan.

GROUNDS OF REFUSAL RELATIVE TO APPLICATION REFERENCE 11/00851/PP

1. The proposed house occupies an area of land identified in the Isle of Mull Landscape Capacity Study as not appropriate for further development, where open views across and within the site towards the Treshnish Isles and Ardmeanach are key features to be maintained. A generous area of land is allocated for further small scale housing development along the western side of the track to the west of the site by the Landscape Capacity Study, which deliberately applies a strategy of consolidating distinct clusters of development as opposed to perpetuating a wider scattered housing pattern sprawling across the countryside. The Study safeguards exist against further development on the eastern side of the track as it runs a high risk of intruding on key views looking into the site, across the site and within the site; to reduce visual impacts arising from development; and to avoid steep or rocky areas. As the proposed house would intrude on key views across the croft towards the Treshnish Isles and Ardmeanach and generate visual impacts on the horizon when approaching the site from the south, the application site does not represent a suitable opportunity for development. Whilst this unfortunately already occurs with Tigh Aigan Oir, this is not a desirable or dominant feature of development at Ardtun and should not be further encouraged.

Whilst the Development Plan includes general support for single croft houses on bareland crofts, the site is not the best location for a house within the croft. If the house were to be approved in the proposed location, along with the associated planting proposals, this would generate adverse impacts on the key features of the area, namely the protected open views across the site, contrary to the provisions of the Development Plan. In this case, these conflicts are considered to outweigh the general support for a house on a bareland croft in STRAT AC 1, DC 5 and LP HOU 1.
