

Revised Draft Argyll and Bute Visitor Levy Scheme - Residents

* Required

Overview

Our visitor economy is a key industry for Argyll and Bute. Visitors expect and rely on services that are used also by our communities. The Visitor Levy \(Scotland\) Act 2024 came into effect in May 2024. This was followed by Visitor Levy \(Amendment\) \(Scotland\) Act 2026 in May 2026. The Act gives the opportunity to raise investment to sustain these shared services, support the future of the visitor economy and deliver benefit both visitors and residents.

Argyll and Bute Council has developed a proposed revised Visitor Levy Scheme to support tourism as a sustainable beneficial part of Argyll and Bute community life and economy.

With growing tourism pressures demonstrated by an increase of 58.9% of overnight visitors accessing paid accommodation between 2013 to 2024 and challenging public sector budgets we need to investigate options that could help raise income locally, to sustain public services needed and affected by the tourism industry and make improvements to the future delivery of tourism across Argyll and Bute. Many other Scottish councils with rural and urban areas, such as The Highland Council, are also considering options for a potential Visitor Levy Scheme.

If Argyll and Bute Council introduces such a levy, which at the earliest will be mid to late 2028, the money raised must be used specifically for the benefit of the visitor economy, such as towards making local facilities and services better. Local culture, events and festivals could also benefit.

What is a Visitor Levy and how much would it cost?

A Visitor Levy is a payment based on the cost of most types of paid, overnight accommodation. Most people paying to stay for an overnight visit to Argyll and Bute would have to pay the levy (national exemptions are noted in the Act and local exemptions are included in the draft Visitor Levy Scheme proposal for Argyll and Bute).

There are questions in this consultation about how much a levy should be, if introduced; and what you would like to see the investment spent on.

What's next?

Our focus is on developing a draft Visitor Levy Scheme that would benefit visitors, residents and the visitor economy. We would therefore welcome your views on key aspects of the scheme, by answering these consultation questions.

The results of this consultation will be drafted into the required consultation report that will be discussed by councillors later in the 2026 year and will help to decide whether the proposed Argyll and Bute Council Visitor Levy Scheme is changed, accepted or rejected.

In addition, an ongoing programme of communication and engagement will be arranged over the formal 12-week consultation period, Monday, 13th July to Monday, 5th October 2026. Further information is on the Council's website, see: <https://www.argyll-bute.gov.uk/visitor-levy-consultation-2026> This survey should take around 20 minutes to complete.

Argyll and Bute Revised Visitor Levy Scheme Strategic Objectives

The aim of the Revised Draft Visitor Levy Scheme is to sustain Argyll and Bute's status as an area of outstanding natural beauty, culture and heritage and to ensure that the impacts of a successful visitor economy are managed effectively for the area.

The revised scheme is based on turning levy investment into benefit for visitors and residents, through the tourism priorities set out in the Argyll and the Isles Strategic Tourism Partnership's Tourism Strategy 2022-2025 (Argyll and Isles Strategic Tourism Partnership strategy). The strategic objective to sustain and improve the visitor offer received the most consistent support from residents, visitors and businesses in the Consultation Report 2025. On that basis, investment directly linked to the visitor experience is the most widely understood and accepted rationale for a visitor levy.

The Visitor Levy gives Argyll and Bute Council the opportunity to raise income from visitors that would be invested in projects or services that would sustain and improve a visitors' and residents' experience in our area. What would you like the levy to be spent on?

Please select your top five from the following list of suggestions below: *

Please select 5 options.

- ☐ Enhanced visitor infrastructure and public realm improvements: public toilets, upgraded visitor car parks, visitor and motorhome waste-disposal, water refill points and other tourism facilities.
- ☐ Transport and access resilience: active travel links (paths and themed trails i.e. food trail) across Argyll and Bute.
- ☐ Visitor management and dispersal: destination-wide signage, single-track road etiquette campaigns and responsible camping messaging.
- ☐ Culture and heritage visitor projects: interpretation panels, Gaelic and local story trails, small heritage grants, events development and support for visitor-facing cultural programming.
- ☐ Net zero and nature-positive tourism: EV charging at visitor sites.
- ☐ Data-led destination management and marketing: target-market research, visitor-flow data, segmentation, and destination-sensitive campaigns linked to value, spread and season extension.
- ☐ Visitor experience development: support for dark skies, wellness, nature connection, food and drink, marine, heritage, culture, activity holidays, events and festivals.
- ☐ Upskilling and reskilling: visitor economy skills programmes, career pathways and workforce development (fair work) to support year-round employment.
- ☐ Community funding: community-led projects which deliver tangible sustainable outcomes for the visitor economy.
- ☐ Other
